Building Communities

Our products are used to build the communities where Americans live, work and play.

Building Upon 75 Years of Manufacturing Excellence

"Our business was founded on working hard, taking pride in the results, building relationships, and earning the trust of employees and customers—they are still the cornerstone of how our company operates today."

—Tim Sonnentag, President

County Materials Corporation is a trusted manufacturer of concrete construction and landscape products. For more than 75 years, we've partnered with construction professionals to develop and strengthen local communities. We're building upon a solid foundation and leading the concrete manufacturing industry with innovation and our unwavering commitment to our team members, loyal customers, and communities.

County Materials is headquartered in Marathon, Wisconsin and supplies construction solutions throughout the greater Midwest and Florida.

Established Reliability and Responsiveness

Customer success is important to us. County Materials strives to raise the bar and provide an unparalleled customer experience through product innovation, rigorous quality testing, timely deliveries, and frequent communication. Rely on our experienced team to get the job done.

Courage League Sports is a nonprofit organization that provides adapted sports and recreation with year-round programming for children and adults who are typically unable to participate because of a physical, cognitive, or emotional disability.

The Power of Community

County Materials partners with nonprofit organizations and causes in our local communities through the Sonnentag American Foundation. The Foundation's four key service areas are Hunger and Homelessness Support, Mentoring and Skills Building, Service Member and Veteran Support, and Sexual Abuse and Domestic Assault Services.

The Sonnentag American Foundation also awards continuing education scholarships to graduating high school seniors whose parents work for the company.
